READY OR NOT HERE I COME

Come listen to behaviorist Jeanine Fitzgerald

Starting School can be scary for both you and your child; but children are born learners. They are naturally curious and love to explore. You do not have to drill your child with letters, numbers and facts before school starts. There are tools and activities for working with that natural curiosity in ways that nurture your child's readiness. This session will examine some of these ideas.

COME EARLY TO JOIN OUR PARENT ADVISORY COUNCIL at 4:30 before the workshop!

Please consider joining our Parent Advisory Council, your participation is needed and greatly appreciated
