

To date, the Federal Government has offered limited funding opportunities for school safety that local districts can apply for; competitions are more frequently targeted to public safety and emergency management agencies, or State Governments. The U.S. Department of Education has announced the Grants to States for School Emergency Management Program. As future direct or state pass-through funding opportunities become available, the Administration will continue to explore them.