

Our Fourth Grade News

JANUARY

From the Teacher

Happy New Year! Hope everyone had a happy holiday and a restful break! The holiday show and classroom celebrations were such a success. Thanks to everyone who was able to help.

Please remember to dress in layers as the classroom temperatures can often fluctuate. Also...we do go outside for recess if possible, so bundle up!

Be mindful of students with allergies when sending in birthday snacks and include a nut-free option so all students can participate.

Look What We Are Learning!

Math: We will continue learning how to apply all operational skills and concepts to fractions and mixed numbers with common denominators, such as addition, subtraction and multiplication.

Science: We will continue to study and make observations of the effects of weathering or the rate of erosion by water, ice, wind, or vegetation.

ELA: We will be transferring the strategies we learned in Shiloh as we embark on student-led book clubs! As we continue to work on our goal of interpreting evidence found in texts, we recently explored the power of positive self-talk and how we can use it to keep ourselves motivated when it comes to writing. Go us!

SS: We are identifying the different regions of our country and learning the capitals of the states in the Northeast.

Reminders

Don't forget students should be completing math homework daily (Monday-Thursday) this includes Spiral Grid and IXL skills.

Read every night!

Parents please check and sign the agenda every night!
