Background Information – FY20 Budget

The House Ways and Means Committee (HWM) released the initial House of Representatives FY20 proposed Budget on April 10, 2019. This funding will be used in the FY20 Budget that will be released on May 10, 2019.

The House Ways and Means Budget included an increase of an additional $852,228 in Chapter 70 aid funds, mostly attributed to English Learner funding. There was also a reduction in the charter school tuition assessment based on current enrollments in Charter Schools for next year. The House Ways and Means Budget provides $1.2 million more in funds next year, representing a total budget increase of $19.9 million over the current spending level.

Mr. Allen provided a PowerPoint presentation on the proposed increase from the House Ways and Means Budget.

The FY20 budget will reflect an $11 million increase for level services next year (inflation costs to maintain the same number of positions and programs next year), leaving $8.6 million to address chronic foundation budget underspending and the district's new Strategic Plan. Due to the significant underfunding of positions, services, and programs, the allocation of the new funds are also very challenging as the needs far exceed this level of funding
