

February News

Hello Families! I hope everyone has shoveled out of the snow and got to have a bit of fun in it with the kiddos as well. As you know, the timeline project was due this week, on January 31st. If your child didn't pass one in yet, there's still time. We are presenting them throughout this week, so please send it in at any time. It's a great way for students to strengthen connections with other students as well as deepen their understanding of timelines.
